DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election with traverse of the restriction in the response filed on 01/16/2004 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that the examiner has not sufficiently clarified the various embodiments. This is not found persuasive because applicant clearly indicates the different embodiments in the description of the figures.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

2. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-75, drawn to a stacked capacitor, classified in class 361, subclass 321.4.
- II. Claims 76-79, drawn to a process for charging a floating electrode, classified in class 361, subclass 130+.
- III. Claims 80-90, drawn to charge storage machination, classified in class 429, subclass 9.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and III are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the storage machination does not require the specifics of the stacked capacitor. The subcombination has separate utility such as a stacked capacitor use in a device other than a storage machination.

Inventions (I and III) and II are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the capacitor and the storage machination can be charged without the specific injection/extraction means of II.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Should applicant select group I or group III the application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

- Embodiment I: figure 3;
- Embodiment II: figure 4;
- Embodiment III: figure 5;
- Embodiment IV: figure 6; and
- Embodiment V: figure 7.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, none of the claims are generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
